Yesterday Mr. Welliver invited a number of District officials, including Commissioners Newman and Brownlow, sioners Newman and Brownlow, to meet Mr. Andrews at a luncheon at the New Willard Hotel. When the guests had assembled Mr. Welliver produced a check book and announced that each person present would be expected to donate to the Independence day fund. The result was that about $50 was raised in less than ten minutes. Clarence P. King and George E. Hamilton, two other members of the finance committee, are expected to make substantial returns tomorrow from a canvass which they are making today.
